PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 20.—Winnie Ruth Judd, "Velvet Tigress," was again the center of attraction for a motley throng of Cowboys, Indians and desert residents as her trial for the "double trunk murders" resumed today. Selection of a jury of 12 men was expected to be completed before nightfall.

Fourteen prospective jurors from a panel of 29 from which twelve will be chosen to sit in the case had been tentatively accepted as the trial resumed before Superior Judge Howard C. Speakman and the interrogation of the remainder of the veniremen was expected to be speeded.

Mrs. Judd Pleased

Mrs. Judd, being tried on a charge that she murdered Agnes Anne Lerol, clinical nurse and who faces a second trial for the slaying of Hedvig Samuelson, invalid patient was well pleased with the experience of her first day in court.

She said as much to Joseph S. Zaversack, one of her three lawyers.

Her lawyers, too, were elated over what they termed an important victory, gained in their first legal skirmish with the prosecution and which they say will aid them greatly in proving their contention that Mrs. Judd did not know right from wrong when she slew her friends

PA NEWC OBSERVES

We wonder what the man was doing yesterday afternoon wading around in Big Run near Moravia street in hip boots. He carried a long handled spade.

The school truck is minus a few splinters of wood and sedan number DM902 has a shattered radiator cap as result of a minor mishap yesterday afternoon at the corner of Mill and Washington streets.

There was a rare coincidence in the temperature comparisons of the period ending at 9 o'clock this morning and those for the same date in 1931. The maximum and minimum temperatures were identically the same.

We should be glad we don't live in Russia now. C. Risher of Morgantown, W. Va., who visited here this week with relatives, told Pa Newc that he had no white bread all the time he was in that country; they paid $5 a pound for butter; an orange cost him $1 and a chocolate bar, which we buy for 10 cents they buy for $2. They get no coffee in Russia, and a fruit cake that was sent to him long before Christmas of 1930, reached him in April 1931, and then he had to pay $14 duty on it. From Mr. Risher's report, Pa Newc thinks New Castle is a pretty good place.

Pa Newc is informed that one auto being driven around the city carries a license "B. C. 114."

First Draft Of Men From Lawrence Co. Go To Pymatuning

Forty Five In First Contingent To Leave For State Jobs At Dam

Taken To Site In Cars Provided By New Castle Citizens

Shortly after eight o'clock this morning Lawrence county's first draft of men, 45 in all, left New Castle for Espyville, where they will work on the Pymatuning dam. The men assembled at the Y. M. C. A. early this morning, were checked by Robert L. Meermans, who has had charge of the registration work for the Department of Labor and Industry, and a few minutes later were on their way in automobiles donated by citizens of the city.

Each man had a valise or box containing his clothes, and each one was dressed for cold weather. While the winter is a mild one, working outdoors at the dam will require heavy clothing, and it seemed that every man leaving today was prepared.

All Married Men

With one or two exceptions the entire group were men of families, and where there was a single man in the group he was a man who had parents or relatives depending upon him. Almost every section of the county was represented, and

Hear Interesting Addresses By Dr. Eisenberg And Dr. M. S. Bentz

CONCLUDE MEETING THIS AFTERNOON

Explanation of the principles of the Ten Year plan, which the State Department of Education is now working upon, was made by Dr. J. Linwood Eisenberg head of Slippery Rock State Teachers college at the morning session of the 29th annual convention of the school directors of Lawrence county.

Dr. Eisenberg will go into further detail of this plan at the sessions this afternoon.

Another interesting address of the session this morning was that of Dr. M. S. Bentz, county superintendent of schools of Cambria county, who outlined the duties of school directors, and pointed out the most pertinent things they should attend to in their capacity of school directors.

He emphasized the fact that the child should come first in the school system, the teacher next, and the school director last.

Election Postponed

Because of the limited time this morning, the election of officers which was to have taken place this morning was held over until the afternoon.

SEEKING HEART BALM FROM GIRL'S PARENTS

Charging his romance had been wrecked when Miss Nathan Potter, daughter of a wealthy Ann Arbor, Mich., family, broke her engagement to him, Paride Pirrongelli, self-styled Italian nobleman, brought suit for $150,000 heart balm against the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Potter. Pirrongelli says he left his native land and his position as a young Fascist leader to come to Ann Arbor and marry Miss Potter. The couple, shown above, met in Rome.

GIRL'S SCREAMS REPORTED HEARD

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20.—Norman R. Bechtel, widely known Mennonite church worker, was murdered and his girl companion abducted here early today.

This was the theory reached by police after Bechtel was found dying of a score of stab wounds behind "Lone Oak", vacant home of Mrs. Thomas P. C. Stokes, Germantown. The scene of the crime is only a block from the home of Judge Harry S. McDevitt, prominent jurist.

Stabbed to Death.

Bechtel was killed by two or more men with stilettos when he attmepted to defend his companion, according to the police theory. The thugs then stole his automobile and kidnaped the woman, it is believed.

The murder-kidnaping theory was evolved after Detective Warren Murray said there was evidence of a terrific struggle and asserted Bechtel had been dragged from his car.

Shortly before Bechtel was found in a dying condition a passing trolley car motorman heard a girl scream.

TO HOLD DINNER AT CASTLETON

International Reparations Conference May Not Open January 25

PREMIER LAVAL INVITES BRIAND

British Government Irritated By Move Postponing Discussions

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The International Reparations Conference scheduled to meet at Lausanne, Switzerland, next Monday disappeared into thin air today.

International News Service was informed by a reliable authority that it would be impossible for the conference to meet on January 25 as scheduled. Officials refused to commit themselves as to whether the meeting would be postponed merely for a few days or put off for an indefinite date.

Cabinet Meets

The various government, and Britain in particular, are now faced with the unwelcome task of "saving face." Inasmuch as Britain initiated the conference after it had been recommended by the bank for international settlements, Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald's cabinet must be the one to act in calling it off.

The cabinet met for two hours this morning and will meet again tomorrow or Friday. Definite decision on the problem will probably be announced on the latter day.

Rumors were current that Premier Laval had invited MacDonald to visit Paris over the week end.

Five Robbers Kidnap Family Then Rob Bank

Loot Taken By Five Bandits At Mundelein, Illinois, Is $3,500

FAMILY IS HELD SEVERAL HOURS

(International News Service)

MUNDELEIN, Ill., Jan. 20.—Five bandits today escaped with $3500 from the Mundelein State bank after kidnaping Cashier Milan C. Mott, his wife and four children and holding them captive for six hours.

To prevent spread of an alarm, the bandits carried off Paul Mott, 22, the cashier's son. He was released unharmed a short time later at Waukonda, Ill.

One of the gang entered through a window and opened the front door to admit his companions. Herding the family into the living room the bandits forced them to don outer clothing, then drove them to the bank, a mile away.

There they forced Mott to open the door and the bandits and their captors retired to the basement where they sat until a time lock permitted entry to the vault at 8 a. m.

Four of the men were identified as the same quartet who invaded the Mott home last April, staged a drunken revel and fled with $10,000 of the bank's funds after waiting for the time lock to open the vault.

Seniors Make Merry In Class Day Event

Thoughts of exams to come, seriousness and discipline were laid aside this morning as the members of the Senior A class of High School held their class day.

At 10:15 as Prof. J. Replogle and the high school orchestra struck up the band, the senior class, the girls dressed in charming blue frocks with the "32 berets" on their heads and the boys with the small caps signifying their rank as seniors, marched down the aisle and took places reserved for them in the auditorium.

Frank Baldwin opened the ceremonies with scripture reading.

As the curtains parted a radio broadcasting station was revealed and Jim Stevenson, class president, acted as the announcer and in a clever manner announced the carried program.

The first broadcast was "setting-up exercises" put on by Sarah Cukerbaum and Elliott Francis; John Pagley, guitarist, next imitated the Four Marx Brothers, he was all four of them; Bill Woodworth came next as the class prophet and what he didn't predict for the members was not worth predicting; Lucille Kison as Sunrise Dewdrop, gave a brief talk on cosmetics; The Geneva conference was a clever skit with Premier Laval and daughter impersonated by Paul Cutler and Jennadel Stevenson: Ambassador Grandee was Walt Preston; Jimmie Mike was Gahndi; he and his sheet made a big hit; Beryle Cameron characterized Miss Elsie Calvin.

Time signals were given by Walter Preston and Herman Green who kept things lively between broadcasts. Bill Offutt read the class will and this was received with enthusiasm; the athletic contest was put on by Walter Preston, George Winter, Bill Hyde and Herbert Rodgers.

Beryle Cameron portrayed the class knocker in a realistic manner and she said plenty about scholars and teachers; Herman Green gave a witty stock report; Mac Leslie, as sports reporter, told of the inactivities of the class members, and Geo. Winter and Walt Preston brought the program to a close with a little skit, what it was, nobody knew.

Jim Stevenson then presented the "axe" with the senior ribbon attached, to Robert Ailey, president of the Senior Bs and to the strains of the orchestra the scholars, seniors and parents filed out.

Further activities of the senior class will be held next week, beginning with the Baccalaureate service Sunday evening.

Opposition For Salary Slashes In Washington

SENATOR BORAH DEMANDS ACTION

American Legion Pension Bill May Be Outlawed At This Session

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Fight for reduction of salaries of government employes as a part of the bi-partisan economy move in congress encountered strong opposition today.

While backers of the salary slash plan were pressing for a house showdown on the $175,000,000 agricultural supply bill, counter demands for delay until the tax revision bill has been passed were raised.

Rep. Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, Democratic house leader, predicted failure of the plan to dispose of the whole question on the appropriation bill.

Should Wait.

"I believe the question of reduction of salaries should wait until we have passed the tax bill and also until we see what general appropriations will be," said Rainey.

Whatever action the house takes, Senator Borah (R) of Idaho served notice he will press for his reduction bill in the senate.

The Borah plan calls for a cut of

Many Thousands More Driven Out By Flood Waters

Fresh Breaks In River Levees In Mississippi Cause More Suffering

RELIEF WORK IS BEING SPEEDED

Spectre Of Famine And Disease Adds To Widespread Suffering In South

(International News Service)

GREENWOOD, Miss., Jan. 20.—Fresh breaks in river levees today drove additional thousands from their flood-besieged homes in Northwestern Mississippi.

While the deluge spread devastation over increasingly wider areas, crews of convicts and volunteer workers toiled ceaselessly to reinforce the weakening dyke systems of the Tallahatchee, Yazoo and Coldwater rivers.

Apprehension Felt

Meantime, grave apprehension was created by gradual rising of the parent river, the Mississippi, which at some points has already lapped over its banks, threatening disaster on top of the destruction wrought by its tributaries.

The Red Cross, the coast guard and the flood commission was immersed in rescue work, moving stranded inhabitants from the inundated lowlands to higher reaches and lending succor to the hungry and homeless.

The town of Belzoni, whose residents number 7,500, was the latest to join the list of communities assailed by the flood. Waters of the Yazoo pierced the Honey Island levee and a giant wall of water catapulted through a gap 75 feet

Japanese May Occupy Jehol

One Of Few Remaining Manchurian Provinces May Fall To Japs

AGITATORS ARE CLAIMED AT WORK

(International News Service)

MUKDEN, Jan. 20.—Japanese occupation of Jehol province, one of the few remaining areas of Manchuria still nominally under Chinese control, loomed today.

Headquarters of General Shigeru Honjo, Japanese commander, announced receipt of an appeal from the chief of the three border prefectures of Jehol, asking that Japanese troops be stationed there to quell bandit activity.

The towns for which the Japanese patrol was asked include the important city of Kailu, 60 miles west of Tungliao, which is already in Japanese hands. Acceptance of the appeal would automatically lead to occupation of Jehol.

General Honjo said he had received information that a propaganda corps of 50 Chinese girls had crossed the great wall into Manchuria. Other groups composed of male students are circulating through the Manchurian provinces, agitating against the Japanese occupation.

Guest In Auto Asks Damages Of $12,523.50

Scott And Iva Eckelberger File Suit Against Clarence And Mary Spencer

In a suit filed at the prothonotary's office today by Scott H. and Iva Eckelberger against Clarence E. and Mary Spencer, $12,523.50 damages are asked for injuries sustained by Mrs. Eckelberger while she was riding as a guest in the Spencer automobile.

In the statement of claim it is alleged that on May 17, 1931, plaintiffs were riding as guests of the defendants on the Youngstown-New Castle road. It had been raining and the road was wet.

When about five miles west of New Castle, and as the car was being driven by Mary Spencer toward New Castle, it skidded, ran into a telephone pole and crashed into an embankment.

The right rear door flew open or was torn off, and Mrs. Eckelberger was thrown out. She had her pelvic bone fractured, right arm broken, right foot sprained and was injured about the body.

She was taken to the New Castle hospital where she remained for three weeks enduring much suffering. Afterwards she was in bed at home for five week, and help had to be employed.

It is claimed that at the time of the accident the car was being operated at a speed in excess of 40 miles per hour, and that the driver had been cautioned.

Of the amount asked Mrs. Eckelberger wants $10,000 and Mr. Eckelberger $2,523.50.

WORKERS READY TO INAUGURATE HOSPITAL DRIVE

the campaign should succeed. Unless the $60,000 deficit is wiped out, the hospital must close its doors and cease its ministration to the sick and needy. Unless the $60,000 deficit is wiped out, New Castle and Lawrence county will know the Jameson Memorial hospital as just a building.

The deficit of $60,000 has been incurred through the equipping of the hospital with modern instruments necessary in the fight against disease and accident. Never has this city been asked to underwrite the capital expense necessary to the building of a hospital. In this it has been unusually fortunate. In the case of the Jameson Memorial hospital, it was given to the city by the late David Jameson. The cost of equipping it is small, in comparison with the original outlay of nearly $1,000,000 and it is this cost that the citizens are now asked to mark off with their contributions.

Canvas Everybody.

Every phase of the business, industrial and professional life of the city will be canvassed. Under the general chairmanship of Fred L. Rentz, ten divisions are headed by citizens of standing, and under these ten division leaders are vice chairmen and workers.

If this deficit of $60,000 is wiped out the directors of the hospital say that there will be no similar deficit in years to come, that the only deficit possible will be a small operating deficit which is usual to all general hospitals.

The divisions are ready for the opening of the campaign Thursday evening. Every citizen should feel a part of the responsibility of putting the hospital upon a firm financial basis. Doing so means a continuation of the Jameson Memorial hospital and the outstanding service it has been rendering. Failure to do so means the closing of the doors.

The couple had quarreled frequently, police said. At one time the wife obtained separation papers and threatened to seek a divorce.

Plea Is Granted

Both Kline and Succop are under indictment of criminal charges in Pittsburgh involving award of contracts for municipal supplies. They recently asked the high court for a change of venue on the grounds it would be impossible for them to obtain a fair and impartial trial in Allegheny county. In granting the petition the high court did not go into the details of the allegations made by the pair but merely handed down a per curiam order granting the change of venue.

Judge Finletter once before was assigned to conduct a trial outside Philadelphia. On May 20, 1924, the state supreme court requested him to preside at the trial of Ku Klux Klansmen in Cambria county in connection with a riot at Tilly in which several were killed and many injured.

Trial In March

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 20—Mayor Charles H. Kline and his deposed director of supplies Bertram L. Succop may go on trial for irregularities of office in Butler county court, Monday, March 14.

District Attorney Edgar H. Negley of Butler county, said that date was acceptable to the court and needed only acceptance by Judge Thomas J. Finletter, of Philadelphia, ordered to preside in the trial specially by the supreme court which granted a change of venue from Allegheny county.

District Attorney Andrew T. Park expressed readiness to continue with the case. It was estimated that transfer of the trial to Butler county will cost Allegheny county an additional $20,000 in court costs.

Greenwood Flooded

Greenwood, itself a haven for refugees heretofore, today witnessed an exodus as water flowing through crevasses in the main town levees tumbled through the streets.

A 20-foot rupture in the Tallahatchee dyke near Lambert spouted water upon the streets of Chancey and Brazil and threatened to inundate the newly-constructed prison farm in Quitman county.

Spectre of famine and disease added to the widespread suffering. The flooded towns of Webb, Glendora, Sumner and Phillip were without good drinking water and unsanitary conditions prevailed.

New Appeal For Help

The Red Cross sounded a new appeal for urgently needed food, fuel and clothing.

Refugee camps dot the hilltops. Many of the homeless found temporary shelter in railroad box cars standing on tracks on the higher levels.

6 per cent on salaries of $5,000 to $7,000, 10 per cent on salaries of $7,000 to $10,000 and 20 per cent over $10,000.

Rep. Wood (R) of Indiana, leading the house battle, has urged a more moderate plan calculated to save $35,000,000 to $40,000,000.

Obstacles Raised.

Other obstacles were raised to the bi-partisan economy program under which no appropriations would be voted unless recommended by President Hoover.

The president has declared his opposition to the proposal of the American Legion to give pensions of $30 for widows of World war veterans, with $6 for each child. The house World war veterans committee is expected to recommend a pension of $20 a month for widows.

If the economy policy of house leaders is adopted, the pension bill would be outlawed this session.

Three Permits To Build Homes Here

Ten permits of various types of construction have been granted so far this month, according to records at the city bureau of building. Among the permits were three sanctions for construction of dwellings. The houses are to be built at 1816 Pennsylvania avenue, 1220 Huron avenue and 304 Sumner avenue.

To Probe Hawaii

One of the results of the furore created by the disclosures following the Massie case in Honolulu is the assignment of Seth W. Richardson (above), Assistant U. S. Attorney-General, to Hawaii to investigate crime conditions. Unlimited powers of inquiry have been given Richardson, who received instructions from his chief, Attorney-General Mitchell, to investigate courts, police, jury system and parole board, as well as the efficiency of Federal liquor and narcotic enforcement in the islands.

LAUSANNE PARLEY GOING ON ROCKS, FRANCE ADAMANT

Confirmation was unobtainable, but officials admitted it was a "possibility."

Numerous Factors

Numerous factors are responsible for the apparent necessity of postponing the conference. Chief among them is the adamant declaration of French policy made by Premier Pierre Laval in presenting his new cabinet to the Chamber of Deputies yesterday.

Laval announced flatly that France would not consent to any "sacrifice" of her right to collect reparations from Germany as guaranteed by the treaty of Versailles and would countenance no reductions that were not balanced by equal slashes in France's war debts to the United States.

British Irritated

It was no secret in Whitehall that this firm stand irritated the British government, as it virtually nullified the proposed agenda of the Lausanne Conference.

The Chamber of Deputies will not have an opportunity to vote upon Laval's declaration until tomorrow, leaving insufficient time for the nations of Europe to have their delegates at Lausanne on Monday.

"For this reason," a British official said, "The conference is extremely unlikely. In fact, it would be a physical impossibility to meet on Monday."

Germans Skeptical

Berlin, Jan. 20.—The German government abandoned hope today that the Lausanne reparations conference would meet on schedule and were openly skeptical that it ever would convene.

Replying to a French inquiry concerning Germany's attitude toward prolongation of the Hoover moratorium, Chancellor Heinrich Bruening informed Premier Laval that prolongation cannot be considered as a solution of the reparations problem, inasmuch as this country will not be able to meet even her unconditional obligations after July 1.

The government welcomed the proposal by Leon Blum, French Socialist leader, that a League of Nations commission investigate the reparations situations and determine the exact amount Germany has paid out to the former Allied nations in cash and in kind since the war.

Chancellor Bruening plans to issue an official statement showing Germany's computation of her payments in the near future.

JURY SELECTION IN JUDD MURDER CASE CONTINUES

and stuffed their bodies in two trunks.

That her lawyers are pinning their hopes of saving the confessed slayer from the gallows through a plea of emotional insanity was clearly indicated by their questioning of prospective jurors.

That the state hopes to hang her was just as plainly shown by the questions of the prosecution. Each juror was asked if he thought the Arizona statute providing the death penalty was a good law and whether he would hesitate about voting to hang a woman and while observers in the courtroom studied her reactions, Mrs. Judd remained the "enigma woman," never once betraying what was going on in her brain.

Captain Hamilton Speaks On Morocco

Several Hundred People Hear Interesting Talk On That African Country

An audience of some five hundred people last night were present at the high school auditorium and heard the fine address of Captain Edgar Guerard Hamilton, only American officer in the French Foreign Legion, now on visit here, his native city, on Morocco, which country, he has been making his headquarters for the past eleven years.

His address was illustrated with both moving pictures and slides of the country and its people, showing their habits and conditions as they actually exist in Morocco. The address of Captain Hamilton was of a highly instructive and educational nature, due to the fact that his intimate knowledge of the subject under discussion, enabled him to bring out many points of general and special interest in such a manner as to please the entire audience.

Captain Hamilton was introduced to the audience by D. F. Copson, vice-president of the Men's club of Trinity Episcopal church, under whose auspices the address was given.

Adding to the interest of the occasion were the numbers played by the high school band prior to the address of the evening.

DINNER PARTY FOR CLASS MEMBERS

A most delightful event of Tuesday evening was the dinner party given in the dining room of the Second United Presbyterian church by the members of the Married People's class, of which Mrs. W. T. Burns is teacher.

The tables were a delight to the eye, with their clever suggestions of St. Valentine being carried out in red and white and places were marked with tokens of the season. The decorating was done by Mrs. Alfred Tidball and Mrs. John Syling.

A delicious menu was served from the tureens, with Mrs. J. B. Anderson, Mrs. T. W. Hamilton, Mrs. Ed Jones and Mrs. F. E. Weir in charge.

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Randles were special guests.

When ample justice had been done the delicious viands spread before them, the group leaned back in their chairs to enjoy a splendid program, which had been arranged by Mrs. J. Elder Bryan and Mrs. Richard Hill.

Miss Julia Sidley opened the program with a piano number and little Charles Coulter made a hit with his two harmonica numbers "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Charms" and "Nellie Gray"; Clarabel Cope had a vocal number, "My Old Rag Doll"; Frances Cope gave a reading "The Soldier's Cradle Hymn"; James Callahan gave violin selections: "Souvenir" and "Mighty Lak A Rose", accompanied by Mrs. Richard Hill; Mrs. Frances Cope gave a reading "The Last Hymn"; Jane Bryan played "The Shepherd's Eveing" and Betty Jane Cope, a pert little miss, kept the group laughing while she read "Powdering Her Nose" and the program closed with a duet, "A Perfect Day", sung by Richard Hill and Albert Quail, with Mrs. Hill as accompanist.

Mrs. George Wagner presided at a brief business meeting which followed the program and after congratulations to those in charge for the splendid evening's entertainment the group dispersed to meet again February 16.

THRIFT WEEK AND ITS REAL MEANING

THIS is Thrift Week in the United States; and the National Thrift Committee, representing half a dozen organizations interested in this and kindred subjects, is trying to spread the gospel of "frugality without parsimony and expenditure with discretion." Naturally the movement began on the birthday of Benjamin Franklin, the patron saint of thrift. It will continue until Saturday. If the real meaning of thrift can be made clear to the people, it will emphasize the sin and the danger of hoarding.

Some persons, unfortunately, have a wrong conception of the word. As defined by the dictionary it is "care and wisdom in the management of one's resources." It is a great mistake to assume that it means only saving or that it is associated with stinginess. We should save, of course, but we should save to spend. President Hoover calls attention to this phase of the matter when he declares: "Thrift is not hoarding. It is the wise provision against future needs. Provision against the future involves saving and wise spending for insurance, home ownership and many other constructive, sensible and discriminating actions.

In other words, those who have been saving up for a rainy day should begin to spend their money now. They have the money; the latest reports show that the savings funds accounts of the people run into billions of dollars.. If such persons were to spend only a small percentage of their savings, and if the spending were general, the results would be reflected in business in a few weeks. Even ten per cent of the total would have a highly stimulating effect. A dollar passes through many hands, and it is by this constant ciculation that business is kept alive and healthy.

What adds to the interest and importance of Thrift Week this year is the fact that commodities of all kinds are amazingly reasonable in price. Genuine bargains are to be found in nearly all the stores and prudent spenders are buying not only for their immediate needs, but for the future. The present scale of prices will not last indefinitely. The upward trend may come sooner than most of us expect. It is the part of wisdom, therefore, for all who are able to do so to satisfy their requirements right now.

Do your bit and do it at once. Observe the spirit and purpose of Thrift Week by buying the things you need.

HAWAII

In Hawaii the white man is reaping what he sowed, and, as is so often the case, is unwilling to accept the harvest.

When the white man found the Hawaiian islands they were, indeed, the paradise of the Pacific. The natives were happy, carefree and healthy, with a sex life that was pure and beautiful. Disease, immorality and crime were part of the "civilization" the white man introduced to the islands.

Outrages against white women by natives and half-breeds were inevitable, but while the white race is demanding protection for its women let it be consistent and demand respect from its own kind for the native women. Attacks upon a bare half dozen white women aroused to fever heat the passions of chrictian whites who have never lifted a finger or uttered a word in protest against the spoliation of Hawaiian womanhood by whites.

Hawaii's population has been corrupted, not improved, by contact and interbreeding with other races. American women living on the islands probably have done nothing to earn the disrespect of the natives or to encourage the attacks, but there is reason to suspect that white men living and visiting on the islands have not set the best of examples.

It has been the history of the white race that whatever it finds it either murders or despoils. Its treatment of the Indians from the time of the Spanish conquistadors up to the present time has been, with some exceptions, shameful and brutal. But it always demands good christian treatment from heathen savages.

RADIO IN THE '32 CAMPAIGN

Radio is girding its loins for the biggest political job it ever handled—the presidential campaign of 1932. It will play a bigger part in this campaign than in 1928 because of the large number of broadcasting stations that have joined the several nation-wide networks during the last four years. The next great barrage of spellbinding will reach every city, town, hamlet and farm community in America.

There are 12,000,000 receivers in the United States, a stupendous total that will be augmented by thousands more before next June. The radio industry has found by experience that a presidential year is good for its business, popular interest in the speeches of the candidates showing itself in the purchase of their first sets by many homes and of improved sets by others.

During that interim between the "stumping" and radio periods of our political history it was not essential that national candidates have the gift of tongues. No matter how far they traveled or how often they expounded the virtues of themselves and their parties and platforms they could reach only a small portion of the people so great had the population become. With millions of voters listening to every speech the candidate with a flair for oratory of the good old spell-binding variety has a distinct advantage over his tongue-tied, unimpassioned opponent.

Campaigning by radio dates back to 1924 when William Jennings Bryan's oratory was heard by veteran radio auditors from Madison Square Garden and the nomination of John W. Davis came over the air. That was a small radio audience compared with those assured the 1932 conventions.

The Japs would a lot rather stay in Manchuria and hunt bandits than to go home and hunt prosperity.

Cheer up. Twelve weeks from now the fish will be biting again. And they will probably be good and hungry.

If France can only pay us from what she receives from Germany, how about a first mortgage on Alsace-Lorraine?

A lot of fellows who in 1929 were looking forward to a castle in Spain would now be satisfied with a cottage just off Main Street.

Live Your Own Life?
Just Try It!
When One You Love Is In Danger

By MARSHALL MASLIN

YOU THOUGHT you could Live Your Own Life, did you?

But you failed, didn't you?

Millions of people on this earth have had that ambition—and all the best of them failed.

Just as you did.

If you are selfish, if you are hard, if you are callous, you CAN live your own life—but it isn't much of a life that you live. It's a tight and barricaded life that's hardly worth bothering about at all.

And if you are not selfish and callous and you try to live your own life, then the best part of you defeats your ambition.

That's true. You might as well make up your mind to it—that you CAN'T live your own life!

Why not? Well, you have no exclusive life of your own to live. The better your life is, and the happier, the less of it is yours. Every day you give part of it away and soon it is so closely interwoven with the lives of others—who love you, whom you love—that you cannot act independently.

You give part of your life to some purpose, to some cause, to some ideal, to some human being who is close to you and deeply entangled in your ways and your emotions. And after that has happened you can't do as you please without hurting someone else, without hurting your own given-away self.

It happens so slowly that sometimes you don't know about it. You have given the best part of yourself away, but you will strut and boast that you are free to LIVE YOUR OWN LIFE.

And then something happens.

One you love is struck down, sickens, suffers and may die.

You haunt a hospital. You hang around helplessly. You cannot laugh, you cannot eat, you cannot work. You are stricken, too. You want to help and your own helplessness makes you sick at heart. . . . You have given the best part of you to that beloved one who lies there suffering and you would not have it back. You are chained and the chains that bind you so close are sacred.

And you THOUGHT you were always going to Live Your Own Life?

Fortunate Fools that we are—we never, never can!

ACCOMPLISHMENTS AND ADVANTAGES

Are you satisfied with yourself and what you have accomplished?

You believe that you have done mighty well and you have not much use for those who are trailing behind you.

But have you advanced in proportion to your advantages?

You have had education and parents to pay for it.

You have been aided at every step and every crisis.

You have had advice which you have not appreciated, but which has kept you balanced so far as the outside world can see.

You have not had to climb Fool's Hill only to fall down its steps.

Many benefits you have had you considered as a matter of course.

Many young people have had broken homes to contend with.

Many children have lost one or both parents at an early age.

Many have had to work after school and during holidays to pay for bare necessities so that they could continue in school.

And these same children have done twice as good work as you, as a rule.

You say they had nothing else to think of while you have had social duties and demands of position to take your mind from your work.

Remember that you have had the favorable conditions all the time in comparison and don't feel puffed up over those less fortunate.

Just Folks

CREED

Lord, for the day 'tis these I ask
The courage needed for the task;
The patience to abide delay,
The willingness the friend to play.

Lord, grant to me what strength I'll need
For every large or trivial deed.
And let me, ere the sun descends,
For all past failures make amends.

In some way when shall come the test,
Lord, let me measure to my best.
So let me live that others may
Rejoice that I have passed their way.

Lord, this my hope and this my prayer,
That in Thy purpose I may share
And by Thy mercy and Thy grace
Make this day more than commonplace.

The newspapers have finally awakened to the fact that they have been giving away a large amount of space to advertisers who, in grateful return, cut down their appropriations for newspaper advertising. The New York newspapers having discontinued the abuse of announcing radio programs with the names of the advertisers, it is a certainty that the newspapers throughout the country will follow their lead. Radio advertisers can no more get along without newspapers than a pen can get along without ink. If they do not know it now, the radio advertisers will soon learn that to make their air-wave advertising pay, they will have to take newspaper space and announce their own programs. That will be the next step. And in the end, newspapers will profit because of the radio—unless they return to the stupid position from which they have just freed themselves.

DON'T WORRY

It's easy enough to say "what's the use of worrying and fretting?" If we have cause for worry, we're going to worry. And frequently, we do worry a way out of our troubles. CRITICISM

It is amusing to suggest to critics of business practice that they back up their ideas with money and action.

A certain man loudly proclaimed that "they" were going to put stocks down as soon as "they" have distributed them.

"Why don't you sell short?" he was asked. He made no answer.

Another man complained that the banks of his city were stifling business enterprises by refusing to advance capital for enterprises to new, struggling companies.

"If you had $100,000 how would you invest it?" he was questioned.

"I'd buy first mortgages," he answered promptly, failing to observe an inconsistency between preaching and practice.

A third critic asserted that the play producers in New York were stupid.

"They don't know their own job," he said.

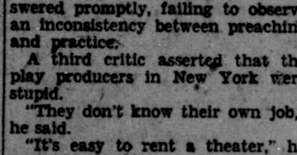

"It's easy to rent a theater," he was told. "Why don't you raise a few thousand dollars and show them up?" No answer was forthcoming.

Nothing is perfect, and a lot of practices aren't even good; but the field for competition is wide open. Is the system of distribution bad? By backing their ideas with a little capital, the founders of chain stores have become millionaires. Most of the New York play-producers were once poor men who acted while others talked. An outstanding success in book publishing today is the achievement of two young men who backed their ideas with a little money.

Business men are the most dangerous of all critics. The bankers don't fear those who spout at luncheon tables. But they tremble when a young man puts a new and good idea into practice and makes it work.

Criticism! The business structure is under piercing scrutiny every day. Not the scrutiny of muckrakers. That doesn't hurt as much as the scrutiny and criticisms of potential competitors who have the courage to say, "That's wrong. I'm going to do it the right way."

War Picture Of Washington Wins Place Despite Critics

Representation Of Nation's Founder Crossing Delaware Subjected To Artistic And Historical Attacks But Maintains Popularity

Public demand has resulted in the restoration of Leutze's famous painting of "Washington Crossing the Delaware" to its old place in the Metropolitan Museum of Art at New York. Its artistic and historical merits are attacked in comments by the press, but its true value is seen in its patriotic significance.

The CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR has already suggested that "if the Metropolitan's space was too cramped, there were plenty of other museums in the country which would have been only too glad to have the loan of the picture." In its discussion of the subject the Cincinnati paper says: "Even those who have never seen the original have been familar since childhood with reproductions of it in the school books, on calendars and the like. Critics have, of course, pointed out that Leutze's drawing is faulty, and every man familiar with boats has entertained doubts concerning the ability even of George Washington to stand up in a crowded boat menaced by choppy waves and floating ice. What does it matter? The picture is deservedly popular everywhere because it is imaginatively true to the character of Washington and to the stirring quality of his exploit."

"It is just as well that the Metropolitan overrode the higher criticism and restored Washington and his companions in vivid paint to the place they deserve," thinks the HARTFORD TIMES, and that paper reveals: "It became known that the directors didn't consider the picture 'arty' enough or historically true. Some contended that the Father of his Country had more sense than to stand up in a row boat crossing a river running wild in winter time. However that may be, it didn't 'go over' with the patriotically minded and their protests have resulted in the change in decision of the directors. Whatever highbrow opinion may be as to the work's place in art, it is as dear, through numerous reproductions in schoolbooks and elsewhere, to Americans as 'The Spirit of '76' It gave and still gives a thrill to all who love to dwell on the heroic struggles of the founders of the republic."

"Who doesn't recall the picture?" asks the TOLEDO BLADE. "Washington, with one foot upon the gunwale of the boat, standing fearlessly and confident under the shadow of the American flag provided there were shadows that day. Well, it is argued, and with sane reasoning, that Washington was not so foolish as to stand in the frail craft, under the perilous circumstances, while his soldiers pushed the blocks of ice aside. And as for the flag, it did not exist at that time. Otherwise it was a good picture. If you are one who thrilled to the painting it is well to remember that Washington was real, the river was genuine and the crossing was made in inclement weather. The facts are sufficient to patriotic admiration."

"Recollection has it," according to the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, "that this never was regarded by artists as any great shakes of a painting. There was some controversy or criticism recently, it is vaguely remembered, about the type of boat, the ways the soldiers rowed, the way Washington stood in that famous craft, or something. But the painting will remain in the mind's eye as the authentic and moving depiction of a momentous episode in the nation's history. In this respect it ranks with the Spirit of '76 and Sheridan's Ride."

Maintaining that the faults of the picture cannot be taken as "of the least seriousness," the NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE offers the comment on its place in public esteem: "That the Leutze painting is of a kind at present out of favor is rather obvious, when it is regarded as merely a piece of drawing, brushwork, color and composition. But inevitably the fashion of the story-telling painting will have other returns to favor and indeed, by and large, that favor never has been and probably never will be lacking its large group of adherents. And those of that way of viewing pictures no doubt today, as in all times past, make up the great bulk of museum attendants in New York and elsewhere. Admitting the famous picture's artistic short-comings, which are obvious enough, it has qualities and greatness of a kind that certainly warrant its inclusion in the Metropolitan's collection even though a Modigliani or such might fail to find wall space."

Assuming that "very likely the museum officials were tired of looking at it, always with the apprehension that Gen. Washington and his color bearers were about to swamp the boat," the MILWAUKEE SENTINEL declares: "George Washington was pre-eminently a man of sense; and yet Mr. Leutze painted him standing, with one foot upon the thwart of a small and cranky rowboat. Worse, Mr. Leutze painted two other Revolutionary patriots standing off the general's starboard quarter in a position on the boat's gunwale which, as anybody who has ever done any rowing knows, is untenable. It can't be done, even in the movies. All the figures in the boat look as if they would be more at home on a float in a parade than on a boat in the water. With Mr. Leutze to coach him, the Father of Our Country never could have negotiated the Delaware."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE UMBRELLA

Formerly regarded as an emblem of royalty or a mark of distinction, the umbrella dates its origin back to very remote times in the Far East.

In ancient Greece, its use was familiar among women for protection from the sunshine and it is thus represented in case painting and terra cottas, and also among the sculptures of Egypt.

From Greece and Rome it was introduced into Italy in the Seventeenth Century. It is probable that a similar contrivance existed at the same period in Spain and Portugal, when it was taken to the New World.

Used at first in England as a luxurious sunshade, it was not until the Eighteenth Century that it served as a defense from rain or snow.

One Jonas Hanway is recorded to be the first Englishman who made a practice of using an umbrella while walking about the streets of London, in 1750. Oiled silks was the material ordinarily used in the umbrella.

During the reign of Queen Anne, the umbrella appears to have been in common use as a screen against rain, and for a long time it was regarded as a woman's accessory, and men hesitated to adopt it because its use was regarded as too effeminate.

THE WORLD SEEKS

Men with more ideas than words.
Men with opinions that will change but convictions that will not.
Factories that produce men as good as the merchandise

USING LEFTOVERS

A good way to use leftover bits of cooked vegetables is to combine them with a white sauce and pour into a greased casserole and sprinkle with cheese. Place in a moderatly hot ovn until the mixture is thoroughly heated and the cheese is melted and delicately browned.

CLEANING WAX

One of the ways to clean the pan easily after the wax has been melted is to wipe it thoroughly with a piece of absorbent paper—preferably paper toweling. Then it can be washed with hot, soapy water.

If you attempt to wash it you may find that the wax will become hard on the pan and difficult to remove.

Pinchot Has Failed To Put Across Program

Little Of The Legislation Sponsored By Administration Has Been Enacted

GOVERNOR GIRDS LOINS FOR BATTLE

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 20— This week marks the close of the first year that Governor Pinchot has been in office for his second administration. He was inaugurated to succeed John S. Fisher of Indiana, on January 20, 1931.

During that period two sessions of the General Assembly have been held with little of the legislation sponsored by the Administration enacted.

During his campaign in 1930 Governor Pinchot advocated the transfer to the Highway Department of 20,000 miles of rural road. The necessary legislation to have the department assume jurisdiction over this mileage was passed by the legislature last year.

The roads became part of the State system last August and since that time the department has improved 1700 miles and started an emergency program of 666 miles.

Utility Laws Stand

In the campaign of two years ago considerable stress was made on the need for revision of the laws affecting utilities. The governor advocated abolition of the Public Service Commission and numerous other changes. There was no legislation enacted by the 1931 legislature concerning the commission or utilities.

Reduction of the drivers' license fees from $2 to $1 and also a reduction in the registration fees was urged by the governor in the campaign of 1930. Bills carying into effect these changes were presented in the legislature but the fees remained the same.

Election reform was urged by the governor in one of his addresses to the legislature but little along this line was accomplished. The changes made in the election laws were of a minor nature.

Two department heads quit their post during the past year. James F. Malone, of Pittsburgh, resigned as secretary of property and supplies following a disagreement with governor Pinchot on the primary campaign in Allegheny county last year. The other withdrawal was Peter G. Cameron as secretary of banking. Cameron was a holdover from the Fisher administration and quit several months before he would have been eligible for retirement.

In place of Malone the governor named John L. Hanna, who started the administration as secretary of welfare. Hanna in turn was succeeded by Mrs. Alice F. Liveright, Philadelphia. She is the third woman to head the department since it was created in 1921.

During his first year the governor has named two persons to the Public Service Commission. George W. Woodruff, former attorney general and Frederick P. Gruenberg, were the pair who were appointed. Woodruff succeeded James S. Benn who resigned during the controversy last spring over the commission and utilities.

Await Governor's Move

Two members have been appointed to the appellate courts by the governor in his first year and one vacancy remains. He appointed Judge James B. Drew to the Supreme Court and Judge Jos. Stadtfelt to the Draw vacancy on the Superior court.

The early part of the second year promises to hold much of interest to those politically minded. First, there is the question of what the governor intends to do about being a delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention. In years past it has been the custom to elect the governor of Pennsylvania to one of these places. In 1924 when governor before Mr. Pinchot was defeated for this honor.

Whether the Pinchot-Grundy forces intend making any effort to gain control of the Republican State Committee will be known within the next few weeks. Members of the committee will be elected at the April primary. Two years ago in an effort to elect a chairman in place of General Edward Martin the Pinchot forces were defeated by a two-to-one vote.

Mongrel Found On Streets Saves Family When Home Is Burned

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., Jan. 20.—A mongrel dog found on the streets last year became a hero Tuesday.

The animal's barks awakened Mrs. William J. Flickinger, of near West Middlesex this morning, to find the house ablaze.

She carried her two children, Elizabeth, 2, and Richard, 11, to safety. The house was destroyed.

The Flickingers got the dog from the local human society after the animal left two other families who sought to "adopt" it.

Excavation Grants Help City Treasury

Receipts of the department of engineers for the year 1931, totalled $932.85, according to an audit conducted by Controller Phil Greer. The city realized $280.25, of the foregoing sum from permits for excavations. The balance was derived from building permits, sale of maps, blueprints, curb pump licenses, paving plans and a small balance due from 1930.

The Bedside Messenger

A BAD SPRAIN—a week in bed. The doctor's calm statement spelled disaster for Robert Speers. This was his busiest season. Orders were coming in; shipments had to be supervised. He had to keep going!

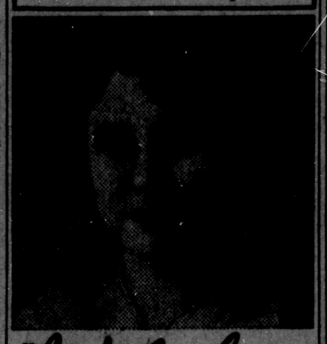

Painfully they helped him into bed. "Now Bob, do stop worrying," beseeched Mrs. Speers. But it was Bob, Jr., who saved the day.

"Dad," he suggested in the midst of his father's complaints, "you can do your business in bed by telephone. Get an extension put in."

Several weeks later Mr. Speers entered the Telephone Business Office. "We want to keep that bedside telephone," he said. "The whole family's using it, and while I was flat on my back, it brought me the biggest and busiest week on record!"

The whole family enjoys the convenience of ANOTHER TELEPHONE upstairs—it costs less than 3 cents a day!

NOTHING weakens a child like a night of coughing. For every mother knows a child requires sleep and plenty of it. At the first sign of a cough, give your boy or girl good old Piso's for Coughs. Insure a good sound night's sleep for your child and yourself.

For Piso's is especially good for night coughing. It clings to the throat better than a spray or gargle and soothes the inflamed tissues. This checks the cough spasm and opens the air passages. Because of its internal effect nothing stops a night cough as quickly and surely as Piso's. Safe to give even to babies—contains no dates and does not upset the stomach. All druggists sell Piso's.

The Parent Problem
by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Dr. Myers Tells Story Which Has Odd Effect

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

A little while ago the following communication fell into my hands. It was addressed to an editor by Paul R. Flint, secretary-treasurer of the Montana Mining Association, Helena, Montana.

"Dear Editor: This is an age of specializing. In the practice of medicine and surgery, the formation of clinics, where men of the professions have specialized in the treatment of certain specific things, seems to have proven successful.

"In education the same ideas apparently predominate. In recent years this tendency has increased as new branches of educational possibilities have opened themselves.

"It is interesting to note the success Dr. Myers has made in the work of parent education. But I sometimes wonder if in creating and adapting oneself to a speciality such as this it is not possible to deteriorate slightly in other avenues of education. It was interesting to be a listener at a meeting of grade school pupils at their opening exercises one morning at Helena, Montana, when Dr. Myers was one of the honored guests.

"Apparently, the learned doctor was impressed with the fact that the exercises were conducted entirely by the students and, having given over his years of professional teaching to the subject of parent education, knowing the tendency of so many speakers to talk entirely over the heads of juvenile listeners, he must have deducted the best thing for himself to do if called upon, was to tell a story. And, he figured, the story must, to be interesting to them, relate to their period of life.

"With that thought in mind, Dr. Myers told of an incident in his own life, when as a boy he had visited a saw mill, and on one occasion, the workman at the mill picked up a handful of sawdust, partially filled his mouth and the balance was stuffed down the collar of his shirt.

Since his departure from the city, the youths of the age he described himself to be at that time, have developed a mania for bringing sawdust to school and stuffing it down the necks of their playfellows.

"At least one youngster dropped into my home a few nights ago and said, 'Say, that guy Myers you brought around to our school put over a hot one when he told that sawdust story of his.'

"'Why Johnny,' I replied, 'what about it?'

"'Well,' he answered, 'the kids bring sawdust in their pockets and yesterday I had to undress to get the shavings out of my clothes.'"

Answer: In the interests of precision I should say that in the story as I related it I was loitering by a sawmill on the way to school watching some men fill a wagon with sawdust when one of them deliberately threw a shovel full of sawdust all over me, which filled my open mouth and slipped down inside the collar of my shirt. (I didn't really know that any sawdust could be found in Helena. I thought they merely had gold dust.) Nevertheless, the effect on the boys must not have been good. I promise, Mr. Flint, not to tell the story again.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Garry C. Myers, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Punishments and Rewards" and "Fear."

Borah Proposes Salary Slashes

How much were congressmen paid when our government was formed?

How much sweeter than sugar is saccharine?

Where is the most powerful lighthouse in the world?

Correctly Speaking—

The object of "of" should not be restricted by "other" or "else" or any equivalent word. Say, "Shakespeare is the greatest of all English poets" not "Shaklespeare is the greatest of all other English poets."

Non-Suit Granted On Adams Claim

Plaintiff Fails To Show Mabel Friskkorn Operating Car For Her Father

At the conclusion of testimony on the part of the plaintiff in a suit [illegible] claimed that Mabel Frishkorn did not have a driver's license, and [illegible] R. L. Hildebrand granted a non-suit, holding that the plaintiff had failed to make out a case.

Adams was employed by the G. M. Gest Construction Company in the construction of a telephone conduit on the New Castle and Ellwood road. His duties were to operate a truck in which water was being hauled to men at work in the trenches.

At the time of the accident he had stopped his truck and was in the act of carrying water to the men, when he was struck by defendant's automobile, operated by a daughter of Frishkorn, who name is believed to be Mabel Frishkorn.

Adams was severely injured about the back and body and was unable to work for some time. The plaintiff claimed that Mabel Frishkorn did not have a driver's license, and that she was operating the automobile on business for her father, at the time of the accident. As it was not shown by the plaintiff's witnesses that Mabel had been attending to business of her father, as contended, the non-suit was granted and the jury dismissed.

The case was one in which the little girl had joined a crowd of children at play in front of the New Wilmington school house on Vine street. She was in the middle of the street, when a truck belonging to the defendant company, and operated by Homer Zook, driver for the company, struck her. She was quite severely injured. It was maintained that the accident was due to the carelessness of the driver, but the evidence failed to convince the jury.

Real Wedding to Climax 'Matrimonial Experiment'

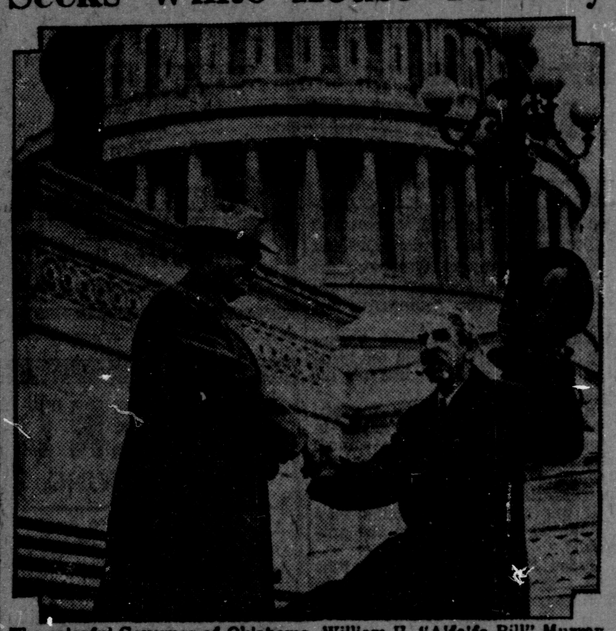

After One Year's "Trial Marriage," Peggy von Eltz Is Confident She Has "Right Party." To Be Wed In Good Old-fashioned Manner.

PEGGY VON ELTZ and CHILDREN

Divorced a year ago from Theodore von Eltz, film actor and director, Peggy von Eltz, beautiful blonde screen actress, has filed notice to wed Joseph Moncur March, writer for the movies. The announcement marks the apparent success of a unique experiment which Mrs. von Eltz and March undertook after Mrs. von Eltz's divorce from her husband. The details of the arrangement were disclosed when Theodore von Eltz brought suit to remove his children from the custody of his divorced wife, charging that she was an unfit person to rear them, as she was engaged in a "trial marriage" with March. Mrs. von Eltz admitted that such was the case, adding that she had made one mistake—in her first marriage—and she did not intend to make another. The children, Lori, 9, and Teddy, 7, were removed from her custody and placed in a boarding school in Los Angeles. Now Mrs. von Eltz is apparently satisfied that her "trial marriage" is a success, so she and March are having their union cemented in the old-fashioned manner.

The fiery Governor will seek the Democratic nomination on a platform of "four-square Americanism," as a rebuke to the "internationalists" among Democratic Party aspirants. The main plank in Governor Murray's platform is "get one man in love with one woman and get them to own a home."

Renew Efforts To Compel Use Of Legal Weight

State Finds Many Frauds Perpetrated On New Sealers Throughout Commonwealth

DEPUTY INSPECTORS AID NEW APPOINTEES

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 20.—Renewed efforts to compel the use of legal weights and measures in Pennsylvania are being exerted by direction of Secretary of Internal Affairs Philip H. Dewey as the result of a number of complaints coming from various parts of the state.

In many of the counties of Pennsylvania this year changes were made by county commissioners in the office of county sealers of weights and measures and in some instances unscrupulous dealers have taken advantage of the change and attempted minor frauds apparently believing they would be beyond detection of new appointees.

Rapidly sensing the situation Secretary Dewey conferred with C. J. Cullen, director of the bureau of standard weights and measures in the department of internal affairs. The bureau, with its deputy inspectors, at all times works in cooperation with county and city sealers and following the conference no time was lost in requesting deputies to get in touch with new sealers and lend them every possible aid.

Making Tests.

At the present time practically all the deputy inspectors working under Director Cullen are making tests and explaining in detail to county and city sealers the exactness necessary in proper inspection.

All commodities in Pennsylvania, under the law, must be sold by weight, measure or numerical count and in package goods especially. Secretary Dewey is insisting that the net weight, measure or count correspond with the weight, measure or count printed on the face of the package.

"It is a queer thing," said Secretary Dewey, "that in periods such as we are now passing through, some persons are willing to cheat others. It would seem only fair that a dollar should purchase a full dollar's worth of foodstuffs but there are those who are ready to take from those probably least able to afford it, a few cents out of each dollar so that their own bank accounts may show faster growth. Unqualifiedly I am against deception and fraud in the sale of commodities of any kind and I intend seeing to it that full measure and weight are given in Pennsylvania. Our inspectors have received their instructions and prosecutions will be made when and where necessary."

For the most part, Secretary Dewey said, reports received by Director Cullen indicate that the great majority of business people in the state are anxious to cooperate with enforcers of weights and measures laws but a small minority keep inspectors busy at all times.

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 20.—Elsie C. Edelen of Erie today held a verdict of $8,000 against the Union Oil and Supply Company of Waterford for the loss of her left arm, which was injured by the defendant's pet bear.

The same jury awarded Walter Edelen, her father, $4,500 for medical expenses and the loss of his daughters' services.

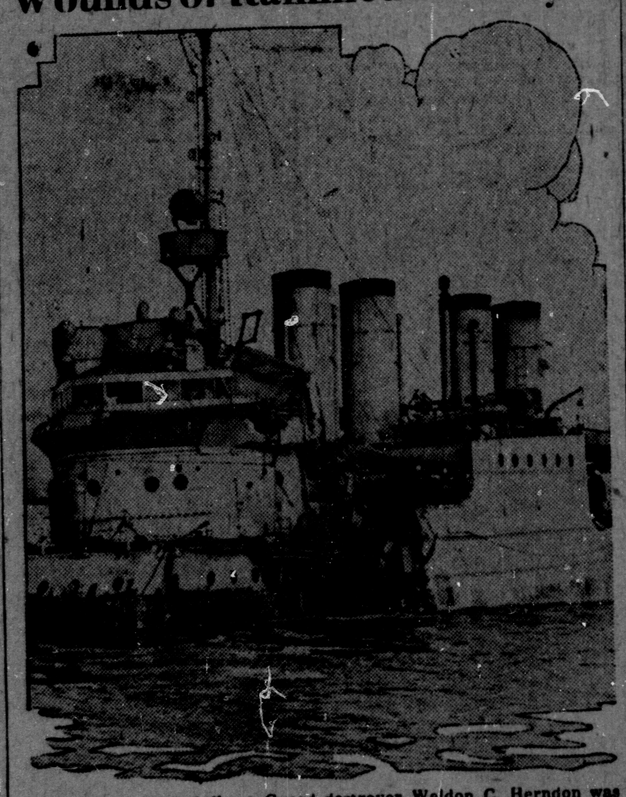

According to testimony the girl was watching the bear's antics in November, 1930, when the animal reached through the bars of the cage and mutilated the girl's arm, necessitating amputation.

It was alleged that visitors were not amply protected from the animal.

Judge Samuel E. Shull of Pike and Monroe counties presided in the case.

Girl Attacked Early Today On Way To Her Work

Negro Helps Free Her From Her White Assailant Who Was Holding Her

Antoinette Armando, 18, 10 West Lutton street, was the victim of an attempted assault about 7:25 o'clock this morning as she was enroute to work near the Pennsylvania Engineering Works.

Her assailant, a white man about 45 years of age, was forced to free her when an unknown Negro, coming north on Jefferson street, saw the struggling girl in the grip of her unknown white assailant, and started to battle with her captor. The Negro hit the white man several times before he freed Miss Armando.

As soon as free, Miss Armando fled from the scene, little the worse for her experience, except from the nervous shock sustained in the attempt of the white man.

Detective John Young and Officer John Moore were detailed on the investigation of the case and found that Miss Armando was walking along to work and the white man in question, who was short and stout and had on a light cap and a brown suit passed her. He then evidently turned around, grabbed her by the arm with one hand and placed his other hand over her mouth, at the same time asking her to go down the tracks with him. Just then the colored man arrived on the scene and she was freed.

Merrill Young, a member of the faculty of the school, gave a splendid talk on "Art" and illustrated his talk with pictures which he drew of "Dear Mr. Postum"; "Origination of a man from a fish"; "President Hoover" and "Rastus and Mandy."

M. K. Cox presided at a brief business and John Turek acted as secretary.

February 16 the Sunny Avenue school will be in charge of the program.

Bonsall To Be Chief Speaker

Mid-Year Efficiency Conference Of County S. S. Workers January 28

The mid-year efficiency conference of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association will be held at the Y. W. C. A. Thursday, Jan. 28, afternoon session starting at 2:45 and a Christian fellowship dinner in the evening for those making reservation at 6:30.

The chief speaker for both the afternoon session and for the dinner in the evening will be E. H. Bonsall, the young people's superintendent of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association. Mr. Bonsall is an outstanding favorite among Sabbath school workers of Lawrence county, both young and old, and his messages are always of an especial interest to those wishing to make growing Christians out of the boys and girls of today, who will be the men and women of tomorrow.

The music for the afternoon session and for the dinner in the evening will be in charge of John W. Owens, the Adult Superintendent, and there will be special music in connection with the evening session.

A beautiful shield has been offered for the district having the best percentage of attendance of the Officers and Departmental Superintendents. Any Officer or Departmental Superintendent of any district not being able to be present can send a substitute and this substitute will count. Both attendance at the afternoon and evening sessions will be taken in consideration when making the award. For the past few years the Pulaski District of which Geo. R. Allen is president, has been winning this shield, although there have been other districts who have had splendid representations.

While this conference is primarily for Officers and Departmental Superintendents of the County and of the eight districts, nevertheless, invitations are being sent to Sabbath School Superintendents of the County, and any worker or Sabbath School member wishing to attend may do so.

STUDENTS INTEREST SELVES IN HEALTH

HARRISBURG, Jan. 20.—The deepening interest of students in high schools, normal schools and colleges in the preventive work of the state health department of Pennsylvania is shown by a constantly increasing stream of inquiries that reach the bureau of health education daily.

These inquiries touch on a great variety of health topics, and are usually the result of preparation for some type of thesis work. This is a gratifying development, since the purpose of the entire state health department is so largely educational, striving to teach the citizenship of the commonwealth, the simple rules that make for daily health and strength. Rapid and complete cooperation is afforded in this work by the bureau of health education, under the direction of J. Clarence Funk, bureau chief.

Dog Saves Family When House Burns

Animal's Barks Arouse West Middlesex Woman And Children

WEST MIDDLESEX, Pa., Jan. 20.—A mongrel dog, found on the streets of Sharon by the Shenango Valley Humane Society and given a home by William J. Flickinger of the Bethel-New Wilmington road, today repaid its master's kindness by saving the lives of his wife and two children, Richard and Elizabeth, when fire starting from a defective flue destroyed the six-room home occupied by the Flickinger family. The loss was estimated at $5,000.

The dog's barks awakened Mrs. Flickinger at two a. m., just in time to permit her and her children to escape before the roof collapsed. Flickinger was at work in the Carnegie steel plant at Farrell.

The mother and children, clad only in their night clothes, were given shelter at the home of W. T. McFarland, a neighbor.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

Another New Castle man who made good and helped New Castle in the past was the late George Greer. He contributed very materially to the industrial development of the community. He was born in Neshannock township, the son of William Y. Greer. Mr. Greer was actively identified with the banking and manufacturing business for a period of twenty-five years in this city, which happened also to be the principal period of development of the community. He was connected with both the First National Bank and the National Bank of Lawrence County, which are now united as the First National Bank of Lawrence County. He was one of the original stockholders identified with the Shenango Valley Steel Company out of which developed the present New Castle Works of the Carnegie Steel Company. In 1892, Mr. Greer with the assistance of John Stevenson, Jr., W. S. Foltz, Charles Greer and S. W. Cunningham organized the New Castle Steel and Tin Plate Company. He was president and general manager of the tin plant of the company, the first of its kind in this community, which position he held until the plant was absorbed by the United States Steel Corporation. During January 1899, he took charge of the then unfinished Shenango Tin Plate Works, which he completed, organized and successfully operated until July 1, 1908, when he severed his connection with it and the New Castle Works to give his attention to his other varied manufacturing interests located here and in other cities. Among these was the LaBelle Iron Works of Steubenville, O., the H. C. Fry Glass Company of Rochester, Pa., the Republic Rubber Company, Lehigh Portland Cement Company, New Castle Portland Cement Company and numerous other industries. He was also for many years interested in the breeding and raising of some of the finest cattle in this section of the country. He also held in his time some of the finest blocks in the city and in every way did everything possible to benefit the community in which he made his home.

Conferees Work On Differences In Credit Bill

House And Senate Members Compromising On Many Features

DAWES TO HEAD GIGANTIC PROJECT

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—President Hoover's two-billion-dollar reconstruction finance corporation struck a new snag in congress today when house and senate conferees clashed over a section authorizing loans to the privately owned national credit corporation, which New York bankers organized last year.

After adopting compromises on virtually all other differences between the house and senate bills, the conferees "fell out" over the provision, directing loans to "bona-fide financial institutions." It was regarded as a "joker" by senate conferees, who charged it would saddle on the government corporation all the loans made by the privately-operated corporation. House conferees insisted upon its inclusion.

Iron Out Controversies.

During a long night session, the confgerees ironed out a dozen controversies. Most important decision was to agree to eliminating the house provision, making the government corporation's $1,500,000,000 bond issue rediscountable by the federal reserve system. As a substitute, they adopted a provision, giving the treasury authority to purchase the bonds and use them as the basis for issuing national bank currency.

Conferees also agreed upon the senate provision, setting aside a special fund of $50,000.00 for loans to individual farmers, through the secretary of agriculture. Preference in these loans will be given to sections, suffering from drought or flood in 1931.

A conflicting house provision, setting aside $200,000,000 specially for loans to agricultural credit corporations was dropped.

Provision Retained.

The "insolvent bank" provision of the house was retained. This would authorize loans to closed or insolvent banks upon proper security.

There was agitation in the conference over the provision, creating a board of directors to manage the government corporation. With former Vice President Charles G. Dawes slated to be its president, the conferees agreed to make Paul Bestor, federal farm loan commissioner, a director. The house had proposed the secretary of agriculture but its conferees finally dropped him. The other directors will be the secretary of the treasury, the governor of the federal reserve board (Eugene Meyer) and four civilians, including Dawes, to be named by the president.

The conferees announced that Bernard Baruch, New York capitalist, would not be a director. Three of the civilians—all those not yet named—must be Democrats under terms of the bill.

ONE FOR COMMISSIONERS

R. D. 4, New Castle, Pa.
Jan. 20, 1932.

Editor News,
Dear Sir:—

I am glad that we have such busy county commissioners, but cannot understand how it was that one man did all the work one week and the next week when there were three of them and a delegation of grangers and taxpayers called to ask if they could not cut expenses and lower our county taxes, that Mr. Conner told them that they were very busy and they must be brief.

If he cannot remember as far back as last harvest when the farmers were very busy, some of the farmers can. At that time Mr. Conner did not seem to be busy and did not seem to realize that the farmers were, when he spent hours telling us what a fine man he was and how much he thought of the farmers.

But busy as we all were, I do not know of a farmer that did not listen to him respectfully and gave him all the time he wanted. Also I cannot understand why we must have two scalers of weights and measures as I understand that the grangers took time to ask that we have just one for city and county. Also, I understand that the city agreed to have but one. I am in favor of electing county commissioners the next time who do not have any relations or political friends.

Yours truly,
NORMAN M. HUNT.

"Chattel" Heiress

Deeded to Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Reed, of Osawatomie, Kan., 22 years ago, just as if she were a bit of property, Miss Nelia Reed (above), stenographer of Wichita, Kan., has used the document which transferred her from her mother to her foster-parents to establish her claim to a bequest of $30,000. The money was left by William C. Wingate of Cincinnati, O., who died in 1923. Litigation over Miss Reed's identity delayed her legacy for eight years, but the deed to her person gained her the belated victory.

DIVIDEND ON STEEL NOW BEING EXPECTED

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Wall street does not feel so gloomy on United States Steel's common dividend prospects as it did six weeks ago. It is, of course, not any too confident now that the $4 rate will be maintained, but it believes that the slight improvement in the steel business, coupled with prospects of increased rail buying, with a satisfactory adjustment of the pending wage question, may have sufficient influence with the board at least to prevent complete omission of the dividend.

How Open Air Schools Have Aided Ventilation Told By Dr. Clendening

Beneficial Results Of Fresh Air On Sick Pupils Changes Methods Of Airing Rooms For Well Ones

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

"Sixteen pupils collapsed today in the ——school due, their instructors said, to entering a warm room after competitive exercisces in preparation for field day"—so went a news story a year or so ago.

That school ventilation has greatly improved is largely due to the example of the open air school. The students who were considered proper subjects for open air school rooms did so much better work, improved so much in health, that teachers began to wonder whether the morale of all classes would not be helped by having more fresh air in the school room.

The story is told of a pupils in an open air room who had a great friend. Their separation when one was removed to the great outdoors was hard to endure. So they went to the school doctor and asked—"Doctor, how sick does a fellow have to be to get in the fresh air school?"

Such incidents set teachers to thinking. If fresh air is good for youngsters, who are under par, why wouldn't it be proportionately good for healthy ones The result has been that the ventilation of school rooms has undergone a complete change.

Much of the credit for improved school room ventilation should go to William E. Watt, who was principal of the Gresham school in Chicago In 1909 he became interested in better school roon ventilation. His observations taught him that the sick children in the fresh air school were more alert, less restless and droopy than the well children indoors. "Would not proper ventilation improve the work of the indoor students?" Mr. Watt asked himself.

It did. It improved their work and their weight and their health. And also the work and feeling of well being of the teachers. The idea Mr. Watt aimed at was to introduce fresh air, but not so cold that it would require the extra clothing that the open air puipls required.

The system Mr. Watt introduced was the simple window gravity system of having fresh air brought into a room against deflectors so as not to create a draft, and stale air removed through a vent high in the room. To accomplish his reform he had to fight the ventilation engineers who believed in antiquated ideas of ventilation and did not want to consider anything, but a mechanical system of ventilation. The old idea that every pupil should have 30 cubic feet of air per minute per pupil was a difficult one to dispel.

Mr. Watt was ably supported by Samuel H. Wheeler of Connecticut who was initiating similar reforms in his own section of the country. Between them they have prevailed, and efficient fresh air school ventilation is one of the most important duties of teachers, monitors and janitors in all schools todays.

When the generation which has learned efficient ventilation practices in school grows up, we may expect that they will apply their knowledge to all our buildings and homes.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

Mrs. N. E. S. F. "(1) What causes pruritus? (2) Is it curable? (3) Can it appear on different parts of the body? (4) What is the remedy?

Answer: (1) "Pruritus" mean itching. There are many different forms of skin diseases to which the name "pruritus" is given. (2) In most cases it is curable. (3) It can appear on different parts of the body. (4) There is no single remedy. Sometimes the itching is due to a microscopic vegetable fungus in the skin. If so, remedies to kill this fungus are employed. In other instances, the X-Ray and light treatments are used.

ELKS TO ATTEND COEN'S WELCOME

City's Lodge Plans Part In Warren, Pa., Ceremony For Grand Chief

When Grand Exalted Ruler John R. Coen of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks visits the northwestern Pennsylvania district at Warren, Pa., on Thursday, February 25, the New Castle lodge will have a delegation of members present to share in the welcome exercises.

This became known today as an announcement was made that Franklin's lodge will play host to the representatives of the 19 district lodges on Sunday, February 14, when final arrangements for the grand chief's will be made.

New Castle Lodge No. 69 will have a group at Franklin to help plan the Warren reception.

Grand Exalted Ruler Coen is visiting in the southwest district of the state during the same time that he comes to Warren, it is learned. Lodgemen of that section, following out a custom observed for several years, will tender him an elaborate welcome.

At the Warren program a large class of members will be initiated into the order by a select degree team comprising leaders of scattered lodges.

It was only last year that former Grand Exalted Ruler Lawrence Rupp, Allentown, was honored at a similar testimonial here. The present national chieftain comes from Sterling, Colorado.

EAGER TO TELL ABOUT HER STOMACH

"I want to tell others about my experience with Pape's Diapepsin," says Mrs. B. Eastman, 1200 California St., Denver, Colo. "I tried a lot of things for my indigestion, but none of them did any good. Then a friend persuaded me to take a few tablets of this wonderful preparation.

"Now I even eat cabbage without any distress afterwards. It used to cause real suffering. I am not nearly so nervous as I used to be; feel much stronger and better in every way."

A medicine must have real merit to bring forth enthusiastic statements like this. And when not one, but hundreds, even thousands, are telling the same story of success, there seems no reason to doubt the day-in and day-out reliability of Pape's Diapepsin to help stomach sufferers.

These harmless, candy-like tablets relieve the heartburn, nausea, gas, belching, headaches, dizziness and other symptoms of indigestion.

Plucky Ohio Driver Tries State Test For Last Time

If you don't succeed at first, try, try again.

With that idea in mind Sam Markota whose last address was Box 235, Lowellville, O., decided to tackle Pennsylvania's state automobile driver's test recently. It seems, that there was always something wrong, either with the automobile in which Sam took the test—or with Sam himself. At any rate he tried once, then again, then again, failing three times straight.

When he appeared before Corp. L. C. Hanks of the Butler detail of State Highway Patrolmen on Tuesday there was a look of determination in his eyes. On his fourth attempt he passed the test.

Others Pass

Eight other motorists passed the drivers' tests held from the office of the New Castle Lumber & Construction Co. building on Sampson street Tuesday.

Six other motorists failed and will be given another opportunity to demonstrate their ability to operate a motor vehicle.

The following passed:

Patsy Conti, 211 Friendship street.
James Elder, Box 296, Rymersburg, Butler county.
Alex Erdos, No. 5 Hall street, Lyndora, Butler county.
J. S. O'Neil, 1025 Beckford street.

Parents Call Health Officer

Dr. William L. Steen today stated that several parents have recently called his office and apprised him of children in their family having measles or chickenpox.

Recently he said that when parents do not call a physician and themselves take charge of the case the contagion is not reported to the health bureau.

As a result the health bureau has no knowledge of the situation. Under state law, the health officer declared, persons who do not report contagion can be arrested and fined $25.00.

STOP THOSE RUNS

Preserve the ELASTICITY* that makes stockings WEAR

DO YOU KNOW what causes those ruinous runs?

New stockings are elastic—they give under strain, stretch and then spring back again. When this precious elasticity is destroyed, the silk threads, instead of giving, break under strain. It is then that runs start!

That is why Lux is made especially to preserve the elasticity that makes even the sheerest stockings really wear.

The Lux Way to make stockings last twice as long*

Wash after EACH wearing. Perspiration left in the stocking will actually rot the silk.

Don't rub with cake soap. It destroys the elasticity of the silk, making it lifeless, apt to break into runs, and ill-fitting. With Lux there's no rubbing. Even stubborn spots come out perfectly if you gently press in a few dry Lux diamonds.

Don't use too-warm water—this fades color. With Lux you use lukewarm water. No hot water needed. The tiny Lux diamonds—so sheer you can actually read through them—dissolve twice as fast, even in water at wrist temperature. Anything safe in water is safe in Lux.

Wash this 2-minute way:

1. One teaspoon of Lux makes plenty of suds for each pair of stockings.
2. Add lukewarm water to Lux, squeeze gentle suds through stockings, rinse well.

MILLIONS of women find Lux is the dishpan the world's cheapest beauty care for the hands. Costs less than 1¢ a day.

LUX for stockings 2 minutes a day keeps them like new

Locals Unable To Overcome Early Lead Of Fine Game At Lincoln Gym

AMBRIDGE HAS IMPRESSIVE TEAM

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 20.—Ambridge high won a hard fought battle over Todd Lloyd's Ellwood City high cagers at the Lincoln gym last night, score 25-14.

Coach Moe Rubenstein presented an impressive combination against the locals last night. His team appears to be made up of tall men which presented a decided disadvantage for the locals. Besides experiencing difficulty in obtaining the tip-off they found it hard to get possession of the sphere at a jump ball. But in spite of all this the locals gave a creditable accounting of themselves. It was the ability of the visitors to sink long shots that gave them such a victory.

The game was really slow and mostly defensive. The visitors started the scoring when Michelson sank a foul which was followed by two double deckers by Matzie, at intervals. Ellwood got its only score in this period when Johnson accounted for a free throw. The score stood 5-1 for the visitors at the close of the initial period.

Scoring was scarce in the ensuing stanza and was limited to a total of four points. Ambridge got three by virtue of a field goal by Matzie and a foul by Hlista. Dudick got the other point to make the score 8-2 for the invaders at the half.

The game opened up a little in the third quarter and the locals managed to outscore the Rubenstein men. Michelson and Johnson got a foul for their respective schools which was followed with a basket by Gutowski after a good play. Johnson offset with a nice shot from the side of the court. His teammate Soccoloff followed this up with a beautiful shot from mid-floor. The visitors were outscored 5-4 in this period. The score stood at 12-7.

The Ambridge passers made a strong finish. They garnered 13 points in the closing chapter to 7 for the Lloyd men. Most of the shots in this period were rather long and did not result from organized play. Most of the period was played by substitutes. Michelson and Matzie led the attack for the invaders. The final score was 25-14 for Ambridge.

Matzie, Yorgan and Michelson were the bright lights in Ambridge's victory, while Johnson and Dudick were outstanding for the blue and white.

The lineup:

Device Perfected To Banish Seasickness

Ingenious New Stabilizing Device Will Be Tried Out On Ocean Liners

Would Shift Weight From Side To Side During Heavy Sea And Balance Vessel

By LEIGH MATTESON
International News Service Science Writer
Copyright, 1932, By International News Service

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20.—An ingenious new stabilizing device which may banish seasickness and put modern ocean travel on a new basis of comfort has been developed here at the Moore School of Electrical Engineering, University of Pennsylvania, it was learned today.

Almost all the motion of larger ships laboring in heavy seas is in rolling motion. Seldom does "pitching" (endwise) motion of these craft exceed two degrees. But the sidewise motion often exceeds ten degrees each way in heavy weather.

Causes Strain.

This sharp tilting of vessels from port to starboard and back causes seasickness and imposes severe muscular strain on passengers who must brace themselves continuously sometimes for days against the unceasing rolls.

Professor Nicholas Minorsky, of the Moore School and a member of the American Society of Naval Engineers, has developed the stabilizer by producing a control mechanism which will shift huge weights quickly from side to side in large or small vessels.

The weights, either metal or liquid, are shifted rapidly. A coordination of the weight shifts with the motions of the vessel is obtained so cleverly that the motion of the ship can be controlled against the impact of waves. As the craft starts eelover the weights settle it back in place.

Dr. Minorsky outlined two types of apparatus. The first utilized metal weights. For a vessel of $50,000 tons displacement the weight required to condition its motion in heavy seas would have to be about 500 tons.

Shifted By Cables.

The weights would be mounted on steel tracks run thwartships of the vessel. They would then be shifted from side to side by cables by an electric motor stimulated by the control timing apparatus.

The other type would utilize liquids, mercury or any sort of fluids. The tons of fluid substances literally would be "shot" from side to side through a large tube connecting with tanks by compressed air released in response to simulus of the control apparatus.

The control apparatus proper could be enclosed in a box two-feet square. Even on large vessels. It consists of a tiny gyroscope, magnetic coils and several large vacuum tubes.

Very Low Cost.

"The equipment can be installed on large and small vessels at a very moderate cost," Dr. Minorsky said.

"Ocean liners probably will be fitted with the apparatus at a near date. Such equipment on American operated liners would do much to encourage their use again by voyagers attracted to ships of foreign lines offering speed and other advantages not possessed by the American vessels."

Mobilgas Sales GO UP

CLIMATIC-CONTROL*

* CLIMATIC-CONTROL is the pre-adjustment of the specifications of Mobilgas so that it automatically adapts itself to the variations in "engine heat," even as high as 400° F., caused by changes in temperature, altitude, humidity and road "pull." In the Mobilgas Research Laboratories, all these changing climatic conditions have been "manufactured" in hot and cold testing-chambers. Here engine tests are conducted day after day. The road performance of Mobilgas is thus scientifically verified at different "engine heats," and its specifications are pre-adjusted before it is placed on sale.

COLD-ROOM TESTS—By turning off the heat units and turning on refrigerating apparatus, the engineers reproduce driving temperatures as low as 20 degrees below zero. This verifies scientifically the "cold weather" pre-adjustment for Climatic-Control.
(Drawing from actual photograph made at Mobilgas Research Laboratories, Paulsboro, N. J.)

SINCE the introduction of Climatic-Control last October, sales of Mobilgas have increased 32.4%. Thousands of motorists have switched to this quality gasoline that gives to their cars the highest usable level of performance whenever, wherever they go.

This is a great record. In a short three months, Mobilgas sales gain by nearly ⅓. There can be but one reason for this astonishing success: The public has been waiting for a gasoline that adjusts itself automatically to every variation in automobile "engine heat" caused by changes in the weather. This is what Mobilgas does by means of Climatic-Control. Try Mobilgas these winter days for quicker starting.

Mobilgas with Climatic-Control is offered you without price increase. Why don't you fill your tank and let your car decide?

New Castle Trims South Passers, 18-11

Local Red And Black Attired Flingers Score Their Fifth Victory

Lasky And Reiber Star—Youngstown Team Is Inexperienced Five

Victory No. 5 was added to the list of the New Castle high school basketball team Tuesday night, when Coach Phil Bridenbaugh's flingers romped off the hardwood of the George Washington junior high school with an 18-11 victory over an inexperienced Youngstown South high quintet.

The local passers took an early lead and held on to it until William Klee fired the final shot ending the contest. In the opening quarter J Uram contributed three points, one foul and a two plyer from the side of the court. Reiber took Nick Uram pass under the hoops and scored a double decker. This same Reiber later caged another field goal from the center of the huge court in the opening period. The score at the end of the initial canto favored the locals 7-1. Siegel registered the visitors only marker, a foul at the start of the contest.

The second quarter saw the New Castle boys accumulate only four points. Lasky pivoted his way around the lanky Klarich for a two pointer while the other two points were scored by J. Uram and Lasky. These two markers came from the charity line. While New Castle was tallying four points the South boys were able to locate the hoops for two points to bring their total to three. Rowney was awarded a foul and sank it and Siegel also was fouled and he accounted for the third South point. The half ended with New Castle on top, 11-3.

Thus far the game was fast with the New Castle boys playing a snappy brand of basketball. The visitors tried the hoops time and again but their shots were either too long, too short or did tricks around the rim. Ruha who substituted for Reiber, started the third period by zipping a two plyer under the hoops. Late in the period this same Ruha found the hoops for his second field goal for New Castle's four points in this canto.

Seigel who scored from under the hoop and Rowney accounted for the three South points. The third quarter ended with New Castle leading the caravan, 15-7.

In the fourth quarter Coach Bridenbaugh injected two substitutes into the tilt. Ostrosky took J. Uram's place and Marvin replaced the stellar Reiber. The final frame saw the South boys register four markers while the local passers were ably to tally three more to bring their total to the night up to 18.

Klarich was fouled and made the try good. Seigel took the sphere and shot from the foul line to account for the second and final Youngstown field goal. New Castle's 18th point was scored by Marvin from the charity mark. The final score, New Castle 18, South 11.

Several hundred spectators watched the New Castle team capture its fifth consecutive victory of the season. Among the interested fans was Coach Heinzer and his Butler high team which meets New Castle in a crucial Section Three game, January 29 at Butler. The winner of this tilt will in all probabilities wear the Section Three lead for a while anyhow. Both are undefeated in the league.

For this reason the local mentor ordered his boys to limit their tricks. In several instances New Castle used the Pitt System against the South boys. Twice the system resulted in scores. For an inexperienced ball club the Youngstown boys proved a good opponent. From start to finish the Ohioans kept on trying and proved a worthy opponent. The coach from South took along with him a squad of 15 players and used everyone of them.

New Castle's best bets were Lasky and Reiber. Ruha who substituted did fairly well finding the rims twice. Seigel proved the best for the visitors. Rochester high is New Castle's next foe at the George Washington junior high floor Friday night.

Union High school basketball team handed Mars High a 25 to 21 setback last night at the Mars high school floor, in a Section 18 engagement. The victory elevated Union High to a tie with Evans City for second place. Zelienople leads the league.

The Union team led by Augustyn with five field goals looked impressive. Lannigan and Mateja also played fine basketball for the Union team. Coach Boyd used only two subs during the game. The Union team led 10 to 3 at the end of the first quarter, and 19 to 7 at the half. The end of the third period found the Union team ahead 22 to 14. In the final period the Union team was outscored 7 to 3, with the score ending 25 to 21. A Mars rally was nipped just in time. Kerr and Thompson looked good in the Mars lineup. Union was outscored fourteen to six for the second half, but their first half lead was sufficient to carry them through.

Tonight Union High meets Evans City at the Union High floor in a Sectional game. The Union girls will play the preliminary.

Schmeling And Sharkey Battle Being Arranged

Max Schmeling Will Give Boston Sailor Boy Crack At Heavyweight Crown

By LEE CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Given a clean bill of health by the New York Boxing Commission yesterday, Max Schmeling and his manager, Joe Jacobs, today went ahead with arrangements for the champion's long-awaited defense of his heavyweight title against Jack Sharkey.

James J. Johnston, general manager of Madison Square Garden, announced Jacobs had agreed that the bout be held at Yankee Stadium here in June under the joint auspices of the Garden and the Milk Fund.

To Start Conferences

Sharkey and his manager, Johnny Buckley, are due here tonight and will begin conferences with Schmeling, Jacobs, the promoters and a flock of legal talent. It is expected the contracts will be signed in time for submission to the boxing commission at its meeting Friday.

The fistic fathers kissed and made up with Schmeling and his pilot yesterday but will not officially restore the suspended pair to good standing in this state until the contracts are signed. Both Max and Sharkey were ordered to post $25,000 as assurance of good faith.

Schmeling and Jacobs asked for immediate reinstatement but the commissioners, who have been engaged in verbal warfare with the pair for eighteen months, were not taking any chances. They merely gave the boys permission to negotiate with promoters in this state.

Although the bout is tentatively slated for June 16, the board gave Schmeling until July 1 to sign articles, in the event the bout is not staged until September.

Sacred Hearts To Play Reserves

Sacred Hearts and St. Mary's Reserves will play a basketball game tonight on St. Mary's court. The Hearts hope to annex their twelfth victory. Coach Uhle and the Reserves won 25 and lost only four games last season and among the victories was one over the Sacred Hearts, 22-19. So far this season the Sacred Hearts have lost only two games. On Friday night the Hearts will play St. Johns at the Y. M. C. A.

Leaving for Harrisburg to compete in the state-wide finals of a one-act play contest sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Grange, a party of seven Westfield Grange folk, representing Westfield's play cast, left here by motor at an early hour today.

The Westfield cast, winners in the Beaver-Lawrence county elimination, will produce "The Valiant" in their competition before a group of judges. Other Grange casts will present other plays.

Not until Thursday night will the local dramatic group be summoned to the stage. They will not know their opposing Grange cast until curtain time.

Eighteen casts will be taking part in the capital elimination, and should the Westfield group win the decision over every other, they will present the play over the National Broadcasting Company chain on Saturday night.

In the party from Westfield were: Mrs. J. W. Brewster, coach of the players; Miss Ellen Hawkins, the girl in the play; Sharp Fullerton, the warden; George Z. Miller, the prisoner, Dyke; Earl Cox, Father Daley; J. W. Brewster, the jailer, and Dale McCurley, the attendant.

Pitt And Tech Battle Tonight

Carnegie Has Some Old Scores To Settle With Pitt In Stadium Game Tonight

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 20—Pitt and Carnegie Tech will resume traditional court rivalry tonight when both teams tangle at the Pitt stadium pavilion here.

Carnegie, with some old scores to settle, for the first time in local floor history, will enter the game a favorite to win. Coach Buzz Hogan has his Scotch laddies primed for Pittsburgh's all-important duel and trainer Bert Munhall forecasts the return or Lou Jagnow to his position at forward for this evening's game with the Panther's.

Coach Hal Carlson's quintet, laboring under the sting of a short row of successive defeats, went through a light workout, with boss Hal urging emulation of the west coast performance of his varsity squad from the critic's gallery.

Brownlee And Kocheran Lead Titans In Fine Victory Over Geneva Quintet

Westminster's Tri-State Stock Takes Jump As Result Of Game Tuesday Night

Westminster's towering Titan basketball team served warning on the Tri-State Conference teams last night at New Wilmington with a 52 to 30 victory over Geneva college. Geneva looked like a big stumbling block to the Titans prior to the battle, but when the smoke had cleared away the Lawthermen stood out like a lighthouse on a moonless night. When the Tri-State title is being decided later in the season the boys will just have to consider the Westminster team.

If last night's showing can be taken as a criterion then Coach Johnny Lawther has been holding that Westminster team in check. In the opening game at Grove City the Titans were beaten by one point. They seemed to lack a clever offensive attack. Last night it was different. The Titans clicked smoothly. They assumed an early lead and were never headed. Ten field goals were recorded by the Genevians, with Manning caging three and Aultman four. Westminster led by Brownlee and Kocheran piled in twenty field goals, and when any team is piling in twenty on Aultman and Grahame they are playing basketball.

Westminster In Lead.

With only nine minutes of the first half gone the Titans had a lead of 11 to 6. Near the end of the first half the Westminster team held a 16 to 9 lead. At the end of the half the Westminster boys increased their lead to 22 to 12 almost double the Geneva score. The Titans were confident as they left the floor for the intermission. Geneva was a threat before the game, but the Beaver Falls team was reduced to a less serious threat by the end of the twenty minutes of playing. And what playing it was with Brownlee, Kocheran and Siljander dropping field goals from all angles.

When six minutes of the second half gone the Westminster team had a lead of 27 to 18. The Geneva team was a different looking gang at the start of hostilities for the second half. Their air of confidence had been sadly wrecked in the first chapter. They were a fighting bunch. They outscored the Titans six to five in the first six minutes of play. The pace was too fast, and the Genevians dropped back. The Westminster quintet with ten minutes of the half gone, or left as you like it, held a lead of 30 to 22. Then the fireworks started and it was just one Westminster point after another.

Brownlee-Kocheran Star.

Coach Lawther left his regulars in the game and Brownlee and Kocheran kept piling in the field goals. With three and a half minutes of the game remaining the Titans held a 43 to 30 lead. The Genevians were held scoreless in the remaining time, but you couldn't stop the Titans and they proceeded to get themselves nine more points. The final gun found the Westminster team leading 52 to 30, or to be more explicit by 22 points and that is something to be proud of, when one considers the prestige of that Geneva team.

Coach Johnny Lawther has but to keep the boys going at the pace shown last evening to be up among the topnotchers. Rice and Blaner played fine basketball at the guards holding the Geneva forwards to four field goals. Geneva battled hard throughout and played well, but it was unsuccessful in overcoming the home teams early lead.

The Titans were no slouches either at the foul line garnering twelve free throws to ten for the visitors. It was just one of those nights when the Titans ruled the waves of the Tri-State Conference, and the Westminster students went home after the game mighty happy.

Young Bucaneers Registered Victory Over High Seconds Tuesday

Outclassing their opponents throughout, the Young Buccaneers basketteam registered a victory over the New Castle high reserves Tuesday night on the George Washington floor in a preliminary to the New Castle-South game.

Through the work of Shaffer and Whitman the Bucs led at the half 13-8. The second half was fast with the Buccaneers continuing to pile up counts while the best the reserves could do was secure one point from the gratis mark. The final score: Young Buccaneers 23, Reserves 9.

Shaffer, Wallace and Whitman were outstanding for the winners while Kominic, who scored twice from the field and once from the foul line, was the best for the losers.

Dickey Returns Yankee Contract

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Babe Ruth and Ben Chapman, prominent holdouts of the New York Yankees, gained moral support today with receipt of word here that Bill Dickey, slugging catcher of the Yanks, was displeased with his 1932 contract and had returned it unsigned.

At the same time, however, it was made known that five other members of the club would sign. They are Pipgras, Pennock and Wells, pitchers; and Combs and Byrd, outfielders.

The Giants made progress with receipt of the signed contracts of Johnny Vergez, regular third baseman, and Bud Parmalee, pitcher.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Featureless Session Of Stock Market

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—The dullest session of the year in the stock market was followed this morning by an equally featureless and indecisive session, in which stocks stirred around within a narrow range of yesterday's final prices.

At the end of forty-five minutes of dull trading the 30 industrial stocks in the Dow Jones averages showed a rise of 28 cents, the utilities 6 cents and the rails a slight loss. The net change was little more than an eighth of a point.

Moderate spurts which in the first hour carried a few of the leaders 1 to 2½ points higher were not retained in the second hour, though most of the industrial stocks stood at fractionally higher price levels.

Meanwhile the weekly carloadings report showed a disappointing drop from the same week of last year, which in itself made a poor comparison with normal years. Railroad stocks were firm at the start, but sagged as the forenoon advanced.

Weakness in General Motors and other automobile stocks reflected professional selling in the wake of the motor show. Copper, Oil, Electrical and specialty stocks were dull and quiet, with narrow price changes. Bonds were irregular, commodity market slightly reactionary and call money unchanged at 2½ per cent.

YALE BASKETBALL TEAM TRIMS PENN

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 20.—The Yale basketball team today chalked up its first victory of the eastern intercollegiate league season. Trailing by ten points at the end of the first half, the Eils nosed out Penn last night, 23 to 22, when Capt. Pat McGowan made good on a free toss with half a minute to go.

BOXER TRIES TO COMMIT SUICIDE

(International News Service)

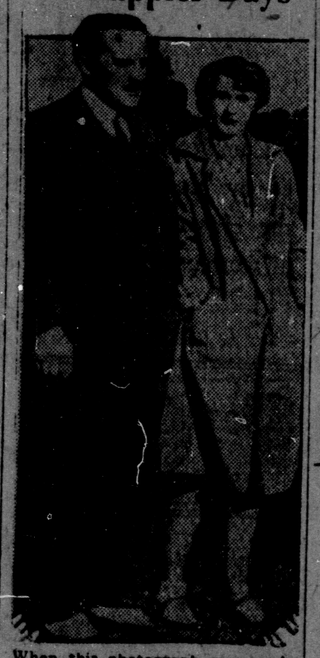

TRINIDAD, Colo., Jan. 20.—Physicians attending Benny Chavez, 42, former featherweight boxer, held little hope for his recovery today. Chavez was seriously injured Monday when he attempted to commit suicide by throwing himself in front of a bus.

The Eyes Have It

At first glance it would appear that Jimmy Burns, of Cedarhurst, L. I., is a very vain young man, but it must be explained that though he tamely submits to the ministrations of Emma Evans, who is coating his eyelashes with mascara, it is not for the sake of beauty. The mascara furnishes protection from the brilliant glare of the sun on the tennis courts at Miami Beach, Fla., and Jimmy, a crack player, is just about to participate in a game.

In Happier Days

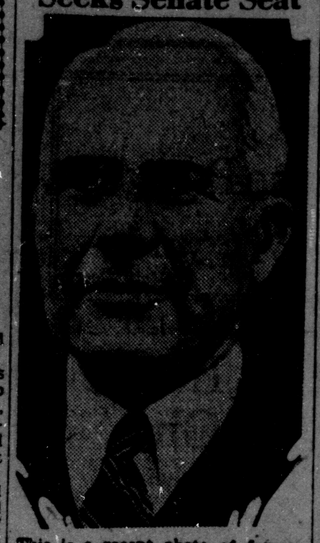

When this photograph was made, only a couple of Summers ago, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, noted society leader, had no inkling of the shadow of tragedy that lay ahead. Now she is under indictment at Honolulu, charged with the murder of Joseph Kahahawai, one of the five men accused of an attack on her daughter, Mrs. Thalis Massie. With Mrs. Fortescue in this picture is her husband, Major Granville Fortescue, who is seriously ill in a New York hospital.

IN 'HONOR' CASE

Here is James Gilliland, city and county attorney of Honolulu, who may have charge of the prosecution of the murder charge against Mrs. Granville Fortescue, Lieut. Thomas Massie, and the two enlisted sailors, held for the slaying of Joseph Kahahawai, alleged attacker of Mrs. Massie.

Seeks Senate Seat

This is a recent photo of former Governor Ben S. Paulen, of Kansas, who has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate to succeed Senator George McGill, Democrat. Paulen, whose home is in Fredonia, Kan., entered politics in 1912, when he was elected State Senator. He later became Lieutenant Governor and Governor. He is one of the State's formost bankers.

Plans New Party

Declaring that the time is ripe for the organization of a national group to lead the country out of the "morass of economic depression and political incompetence," Edward Young Clarke (above) is planning the formation of such a party. Clarke is a former Imperial Kleagle of the Ku Klux Klan and will probably model the new organization on the order of the old. However, any American citizen can join, the initiation fee being $10.

Altar Bound

This charming portrait study shows the second choice of the famous theatrical producer, Professor Max Reinhardt. She is Fraulein Helene Thimig, who, according to the German press, will soon marry the impresario. Professor Reinhardt was recently divorced from the actress Fraulein Elsa Heims. He was the first producer of the celebrated play, "The Miracle."

McQUIDDY TAKEN ILL THIS MORNING

J. K. McQuiddy, representative of the Trades and Labor Assembly who has been supervising the work done by the unemployed men of the city on civic projects, was forced to go home this morning because of illness.

Mr. McQuiddy has been suffering with a heavy cold for several days, and when he got on the job this morning, was unable to continue his work.

LEAVE FOR SOUTH

E. E. McGill, Garfield avenue and R. H. Chambers, Euclid avenue, local bank and motor car concern officials, left at 1 o'clock this afternoon for a motor trip to Orlando, Fla. Mr. McGill plans to remain in the south until spring while Mr. Chambers will return earlier.

Ex-King Pilot of Cargo of Royalty

Back at the helm, but not the helm of State that he held for a brief period as King of Rumania, Crown Prince Michael, son of King Carol, is shown as he pilots a bob-sled with a cargo of his royal relatives down a snowy slope at Sinaia, where the ruling family is enjoying Winter sports. Behind Prince Michael is his aunt, Princess Ileana, and her husband, Archduke Anton of Hapsburg. Prince Nicholas, uncle of Prince Michael is also at the resort and having a good time skiing and sledding, untroubled by the bitter quarrel in which he is engaged with King Carol regarding the King's denunciation of his marriage to Mme. Miss Gladys M. Thomas, who has charge of instrumental music at Mahoning school, too members of the school's band and orchestra to the George Washington junior high school Monday evening to hear the concert given by the band and orchestra of the Washington school.

The Washington band and orchestra have many former Mahoning school players in it. They are Glenn McClurg, Tony Casber, Jack Waddell, Tom Schnebly, Frank Eberhart, Frances Metzler, George Horchler, Phillard McClure and Raymond Carlin.

Each semester the Mahoning school band and orchestra graduates many of its players to George Washington junior high school. At the end of this semester the following members will leave: Roger Pecano, Genevieve Moss, Billy Thompson, Fred Kerr and Helen Nocera.

ROAMING
With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

The roaming yesterday was a trifle out of the ordinary run-of-mine routine. Included a wide stretch of Crawford County, a piece of Ohio, a pair of boots and a flock of mud. Visited the Pymatuning Dam project, tramped across what will some day to be a lake, and saw the camp where tonight forty five Lawrence County men will make their homes.

After seeing the camp at Espyville, and the arrangements that have been made to care for the men, I'm almost hesitant about telling the truth in the matter, for fear it sounds like fiction. The army never had a camp as well laid out or at least no better, with a lot of conveniences that the army never had.

The only thing that hasn't been guarded against up there is inclement weather. Everything else seems to have been thought of and when you remember that it has all been done in less than six weeks, it is more amazing.

The boots they use were the one thing that got me. The old fashioned wader variety, with soles on them that seem good for a lot of mileage. And don't think boots aren't needed in a lot of spots.

Unfortunately it wasn't meal time when we were there and all we got was a smell of the supper which was on the stoves. Seemed as though they were having slumgullion and if you know anything that goes better than a charge of slumgullion, property made, name it.

There is no work being done in the swamp itself. Nobody could work in that place in soft weather. The work is all being done in the meadow land that has been taken over and the work consists mainly of felling trees. Hence the men who work up there will be expert lumber jacks before they get through.

Down at the spillway, the contractor who has that end of the work is pushing it rapidly and gradually a mountain of earth is being piled up to hold back the water which will form the lake. When the work is all done, and it will take a year probably, Pennsylvania will have a wonderful lake, almost as large as Lake Chautauqua.

Got a letter today from Mrs. Finley E. McConnell of Edenburg in which she has something to say about those old time winters. Interesting it is.

Edinburg, Pa.

Dear Editor:

I read in your paper where J. Crawford White said he can remember in 1873 and 79, we had quite a mild winter, but he is mistaken in the year, for we were married December 3, 1878 near Portsmouth, O., and left Portsmouth on the steam boat for Pittsburgh. I think it was about the 20th of the month. We were only on the boat a few hours until the ice began to float. It got so bad the boat could hardly move sometimes, and we were on it two days and two nights. When the boat got to Rochester, it docked and the captain came and told all the ones who could get off and take the trains to do so, as he did not think they could make it to Pittsburgh, before they would freeze up and have to stay there.

We got off and took the train for Wampum and stayed there all night and got a man to bring us up in a sled to my husband's home, two miles on the other side of Portersville. It took us almost all day as there was so much snow. We had sleighing almost every day that winter, and did not see much bare ground until March. We are both living and are real well. We live on the Albert Hoffmaster Farm.

Mrs. Finley E. McConnell.

As the sixteenth annual Farm Products Show of the state enters its third day of displays in Harrisburg today, Lawrence County agriculturists, whose county agent, H. R. The county men on hand include local cattle breeders, growers and wool men.
